The Department of Computer Science has since in 2007 been training students in Higher National Diploma programme. The Department trains students in various fields of computing that equips them with knowledge for development and utilization of modern computing. Graduates are placed in work positions that are in high demand in the society.

The following programmes are awaiting accreditation:

1. BSc. Computer Science with Data Mining
2. BSc. Web Development and Mobile Computing

VISION

To produce high calibre computer science graduates to support and sustain the industrial and economic development of Ghana and Africa.

OBJECTIVES

- To produce high caliber skilled manpower in technical computing to satisfy the needs of research, industrial and educational establishments in Ghana and Africa.
- To offer computer science graduates the opportunity to discover and fulfill their potential and provide access to a first class education.
- To educate students to be competitive in the technological world.